

REMARKS

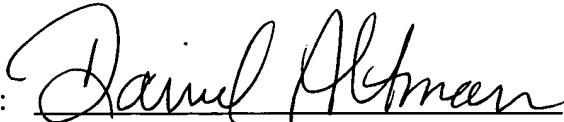

The specification has been amended to reflect the status of the present application as a U.S. national phase application and to correct a typographical error in which the term "Printer C" was inadvertently used twice. It is clear that "Printer D" was intended as "printers A to D" are referred to earlier in the paragraph. The language of the paragraph has also been amended to reflect grammatical usage.

The claims have been amended solely to eliminate multiple dependencies on other multiply dependent claims and to eliminate phraseology inappropriate for examination in the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Respectfully submitted,
